

Chapter Four

1. Vocabulary: Angry Words

Use five of these words in sentences that show you understand Angeline's feelings:

rebelliously defiant sullen stubborn seething disobedient resentment

2. Control

As a slave Angeline hated not having control. Can you identify with her need for control?

Using your own thoughts and experiences complete these sentences:

- a) No one can own me. I
- b) I wanted, with every fibre of my being to defy.....
- c) It was either obey or be
- d) I fumed with resentment but

3. What If

Many authors use what if questions as the basis of their stories or to help plot what will happen next. In the role of author, create answers that would change this tale's direction.

- a) What if Angeline displeased Zahra?
- b) What if she were sold to someone far less kind?
- c) What if she were never to see Stephen again?

4. Chapter Endings

The author uses this chapter ending for two purposes: to remind you what is most important to Angeline and to make you want to read on.

- a) What was her most worrisome concern?
- b) What do you want to find out in the next chapter?
